

Scientific Publications

A work developed and published by Real World Evidence and Health Technology Assessment experts from IQVIA and scientific advisors and technical contributors from key healthcare stakeholders.

IQVIA RWE (Real-World Evidence) developed and published several papers in areas such as oncology, pulmonology, dermatology or neurology in reference journals in 2023-2024.

Guidelines H&N Cancer

Excess hospitalizations and mortality associated with seasonal influenza in Portugal

Defining clinical pharmacy and support activities indicators for hospital practice using a combined nominal and focus group technique

Burden of Disease and Cost of Illness of Inflammatory Bowel Diseases in Portugal

RWE Pathway: The State-of-the-art of Patient Registries in Portugal

The evolving treatment landscape of multiple myeloma in Portugal: a nation-wide retrospective cohort study of real-world clinical practice

Atopic dermatitis: improving patient access to health care in dermatology

Implications for innovation of Portuguese Added Therapeutic Value assessment guidelines

Characterization and quantification of epilepsy patients with hospital episodes in Portugal

IQVIA HTA (Health Technology Assessment) developed and published several papers in areas such as obesity, cardiology or neurology in reference journals in 2023-2025.

HTA Portugal
Scientific Papers

Burden of Disease and Cost of Illness of Overweight and Obesity in Portugal

Cost-effectiveness of semaglutide 2.4 mg in chronic weight management in Portugal

O Custo da Meningite Meningocócica em Portugal

Measuring the value of solidarity: The abem financial assistance program for out-of-pocket payments on pharmacy medicines in Portugal

Oral Anticoagulation and the Incidence of Stroke Associated with Atrial Fibrillation in Mainland Portugal: A Modelling Study

Thank you for attending

 Follow IQVIA Portugal

