

The information we obtain in relation to your application may be used by Quintiles to consider your suitability for employment and for general statistical analysis and reporting purposes, including candidate activity and demographic reports. Quintiles will collect, process and protect your personal information in compliance with applicable laws on data protection.

You are responsible for ensuring that the information you submit is accurate and up-to-date. By clicking the "Submit" button on any of the job application pages and submitting your information, you agree that we may use third parties to verify your information, and to verify that you have not been placed on a relevant sanctions list or subject to criminal penalties in the United States or other applicable country. You give us permission to contact you to request further information, which you may or may not provide, as you wish.

If we do not employ you at this time, you agree that we may retain and use the information that we obtain in relation to your application for up to three years, unless otherwise required by law or regulation, so as to be able to consider your application later and contact you if a suitable position becomes available and, if appropriate, to refer back to this application if you apply again. If at any time you no longer want Quintiles to consider your application, please let us know at email.optout@quintiles.com, in which case your information will be stored securely for no more than three years (unless otherwise required by law or regulation) and access to it will only be made if and to the extent necessary for legal and regulatory purposes.

Quintiles has taken measures to ensure all data will be protected on secure servers using Quintiles' high standards. Quintiles will protect your personal data at all times in a manner that is compliant with data protection laws and regulations, as applicable. Where required, your information may be disclosed to law enforcement, regulatory or other government agencies, or third parties where necessary to comply with legal or regulatory obligations or requests. Otherwise, your information will be shared with third parties only for purposes related to considering your suitability for employment or for providing anonymous statistical analysis and anonymous reporting.

You may request removal of your personal applicant/profile information at any time using this site or by contacting email.optout@quintiles.com. NOTE: This email address is only to be used if you want to be removed from our database. Resumes sent to this address will NOT be reviewed.

Nothing contained in the Privacy Notice creates or is intended to create a contract or agreement between Quintiles and any candidate visiting this Web site or providing identifying information of any kind.

It is a requirement that in order to work for Quintiles, you must not be a debarred individual under US federal law. The definition of a debarred individual can be found at:
